

Universal Choice Redefined

What Are We Really Trying to Do Here?

The EdChoice Mission

To advance educational freedom and choice for all as a pathway to successful lives and a stronger society.

A photograph of a woman with dark hair, wearing a white cardigan, sitting and reading a book to a group of children. The children are sitting on the floor, looking at the book. The scene is set in a classroom with a globe and other educational materials visible in the background. The image has a blue tint and a decorative graphic of purple and white squares in the top right corner.

A Revolution at the Roots

Parents have a diverse range of schooling preferences.

If given the option, what type of school would you select in order to obtain the best education for your child?

Nearly half of parents would prefer having their child learn at home at least one day per week.

In order to provide the best education for your child/children, what would be your preferred weekly schedule and location between schooling at home with a parent/teacher/tutor, or outside the home?

School Parents

Approximately 1 in 5 parents indicate that their child has switched from one school type to another.

Besides moving from grade school to middle school or middle school to high school, has your youngest/oldest child ever switched from one type of school (or school sector) to another? The various types/sectors include public district schools, public charter schools, private schools, full-time virtual schools, and home schooling.

School Parents

- Yes, my child has changed school types
- No, my child has not changed school types
- I don't know if my child has changed school types

Top % Yes

Private School	30%
Special Needs	25%
Black	24%

Bottom % Yes

Liberal	17%
Northeast	17%
Midwest	17%

Parents are most likely to switch schools due to bullying, stress/anxiety and academic needs not being met at their former school.

Children may encounter different circumstances both inside and outside of school that make it hard for them to achieve academic and personal success. Has your youngest/oldest child experienced any of these difficulties at her/his former school? Please select all that apply.

 * Only respondents who indicated that their children have switched schools were asked about their child's former school.

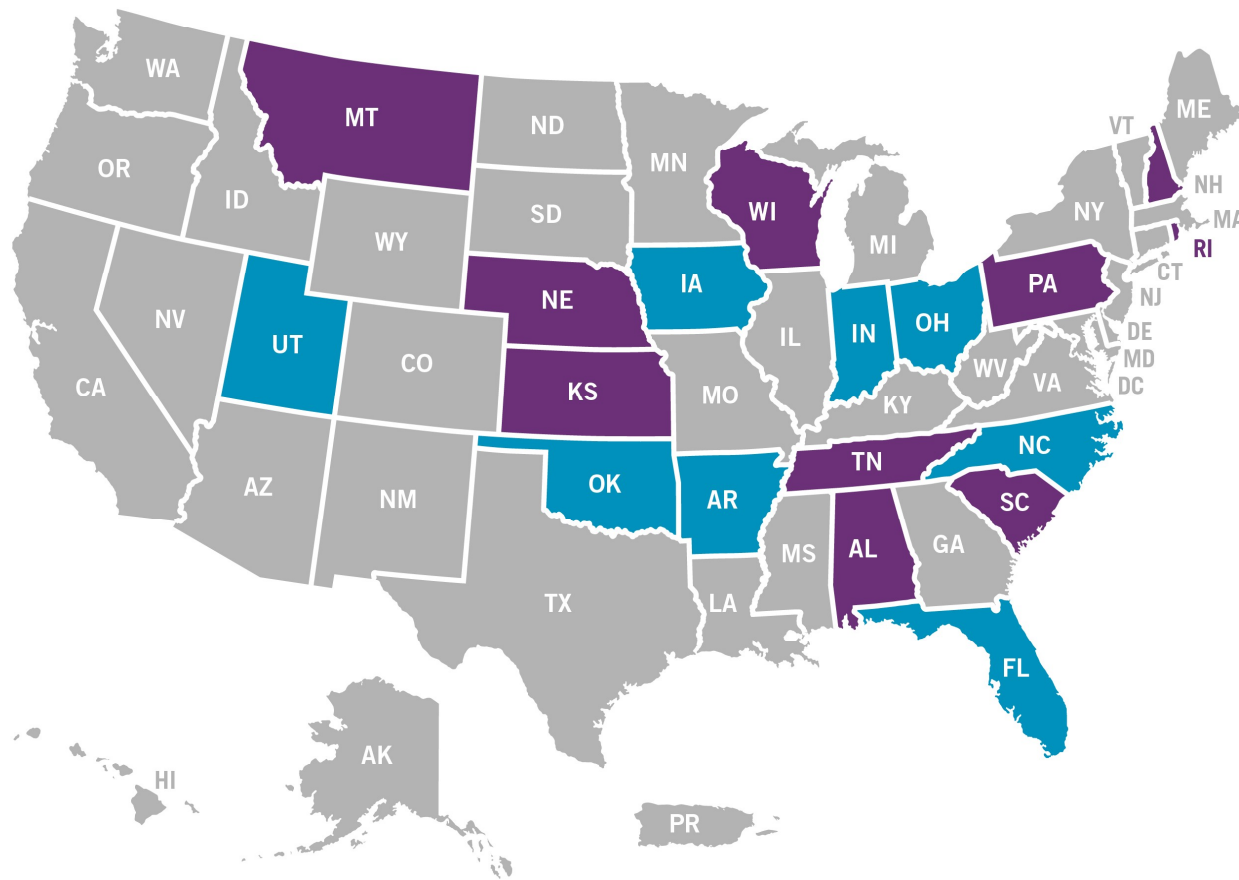

Revolution Drives Policy Change

2023 - A Momentous Year for Choice Legislation

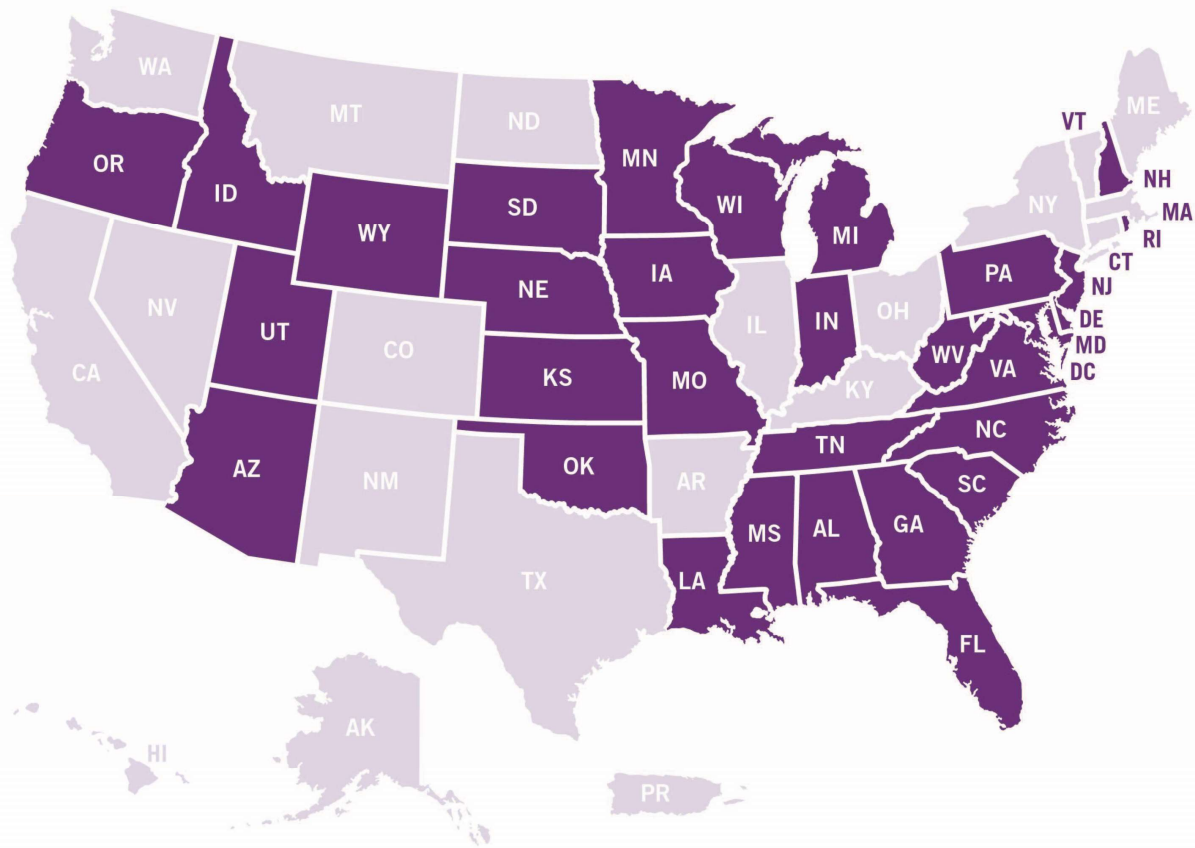

- 125 private school choice bills were introduced in 43 states.
- 79% of those bills were related to ESAs.
- Nearly 1 in 5 students live in a state with universal choice.
- Approximately 22 million students – or 40% – nationwide are eligible for a choice program.

2023

Legislative Victories

- 18 states enacted new OR expanded choice programs
- 8 with universal or near universal eligibility

2024 - The Beat Goes On

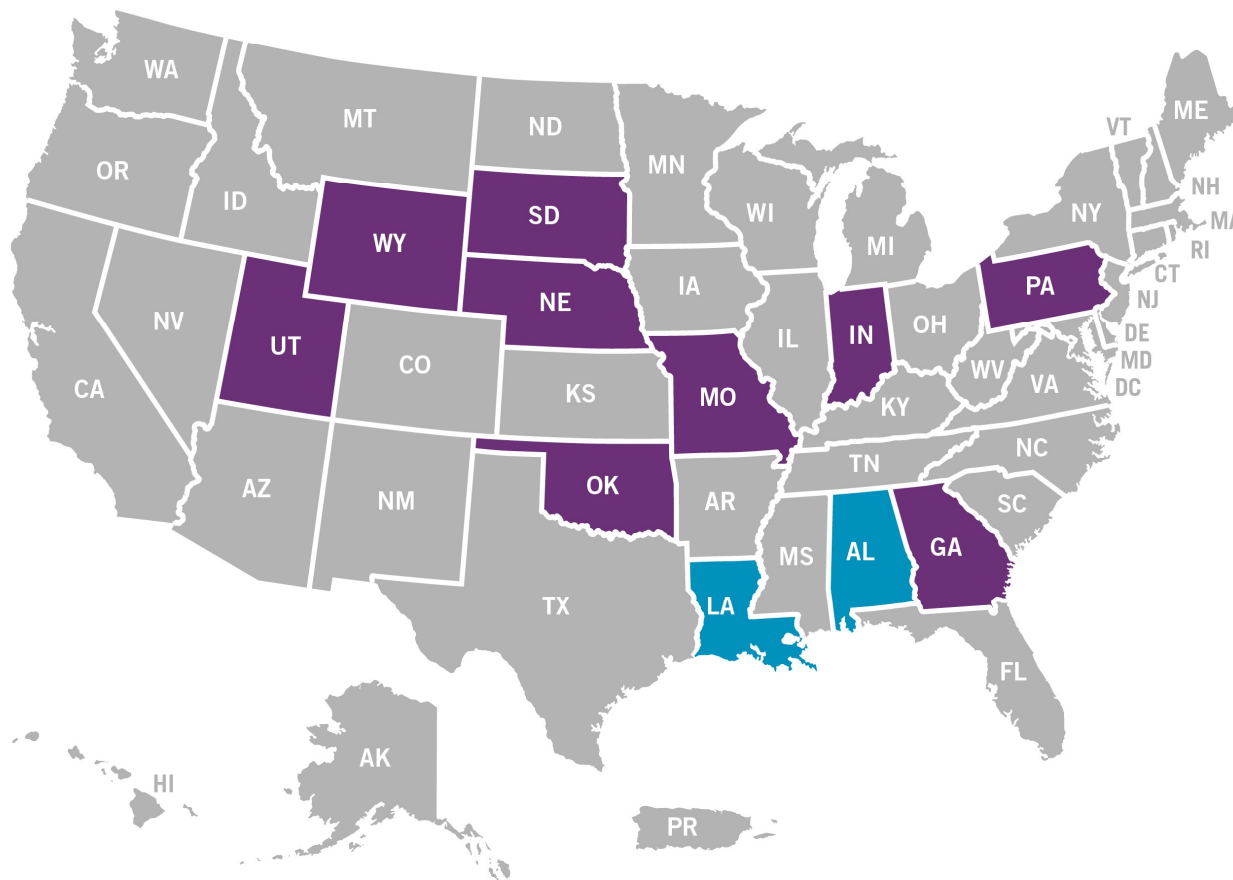

- This year, EdChoice tracked 85 educational choice bills in 30 states
- 73% of tracked legislation were ESA proposals

Choice is Trending Towards Bipartisan

In Louisiana, SIX Democrats voted for universal choice, as did Democrats in Missouri and Nebraska.

About Universal Options (Usage)

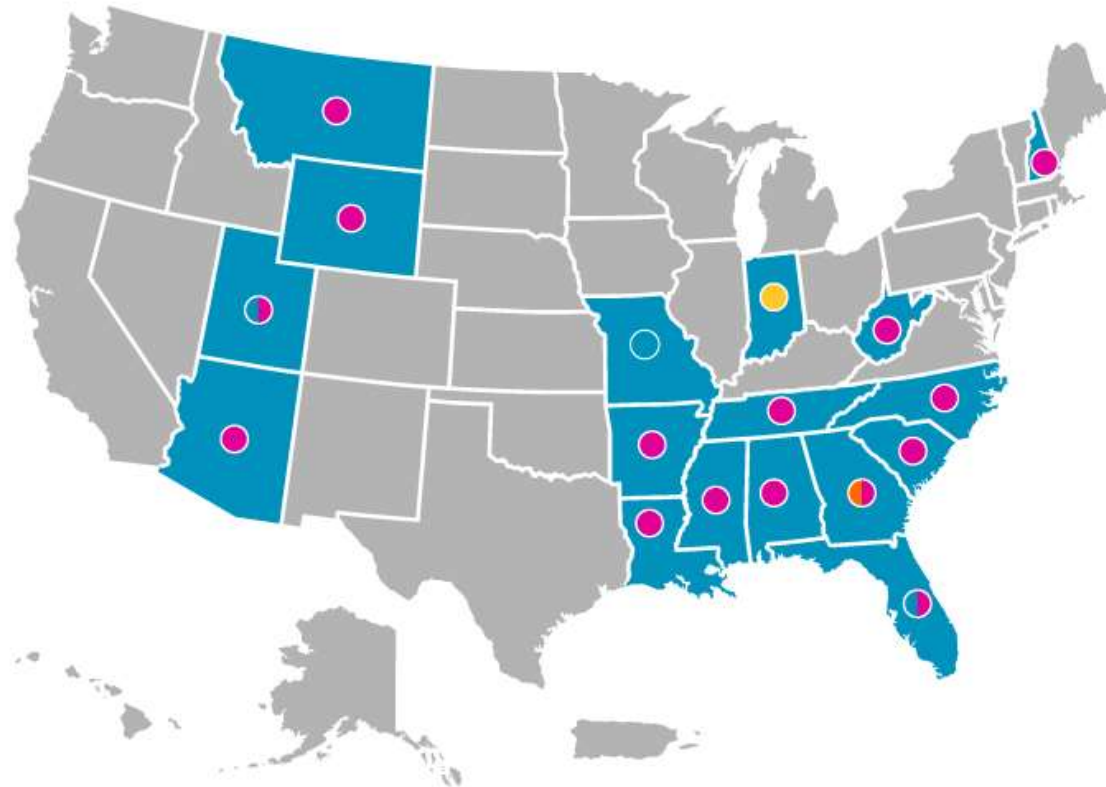

“But why require parents to spend the voucher in a single school? Why not offer divisible vouchers? Let part be spent for the core school and the rest for mathematics lessons, music lessons or vocational training purchased from another source. One does not buy all one’s groceries at a single store.

Why should one buy all of a child’s schooling at a single school?

Homeschooling Rates are Rising

Microschooling is on the Rise

At least one-third of parents report having a child attending a microschool or are interested in learning more about microschools.

Microschools' are small learning environments in K-12 education typically enrolling no more than 25 students. Do you have a child currently enrolled in a 'microschool'?

Key Takeaways

- We need to return to the North Star of Milton and Rose D. Friedman.
- We are still working towards the free market ideal.
- Radically reforming education requires a marketplace that involves all kids, all options (usage), and all money.

ONE MILLION

lives being made better each day by school choice.
